Australian good food guide perth

For the first time since 2019, the best and most brilliant of WA's hospitality gathered on Monday evening at Optus Stadium for the 2021 West Australian Good Food Guide Awards. The West Australian Good Food Guide is the national guide for catering and beverages, a comprehensive and independent annual survey of the best restaurants, bars, operators and state producers. A total of 21 awards, the most important ever awarded in the ten-year history of the Guide, were awarded in different categories, recognizing and rewarding the best premises of WA, along with the best talents both in front and behind the house. "These awards and lists show how deep the talent pool of WA is. This state continues to be proud of being an unrelenting destination for food and beverages," says WAGFG Director Georgia Moore. "Whether it's breakfast, lunch, dinner, drinks, snacks or a regional tasting, there has never been a better time to eat and drink in the West. Vasse Felix in Margaret River won the prize "Restaurant of the Year", with chef Brendan Pratt, born in Perth, appointed Regional Chef of the Year. Chef of the Year, instead, went to Joel Valvasori of the Subiaco Lulu La Delizia trattoria, while Emily Jones brought home the Young Chef of the Year award for his kitchen at the Republic of Fremantle distillery bar. David Matthews, director of WAGFG, believes that this year he reflected the strength of the WA hospitality scene in adversity. "It's been two years hard for hospitality, but what this year the awards show is that pandemic has not damped our ambitions. many new in-belief openings, and continue to point the spotlight on those places we have learned to love.
