This update includes performance improvements and bug fixes. If you like Second Line, please leave us a review on the App Store! If you have any questions or suggestions, please contact our support team through the app. Aaron M. from support was AWESOME! I created the second line as an RSVP number for my upcoming wedding and started a free trial assuming they would charge me after the trial period. I noticed that I logged out of the account and it crashes because I sent invitations with a number on it, so I contacted customer service and thought it would take a few days for a response. Well, a minute after I sent the email, I thought wrong. Aaron M responded and immediately helped me and was able to recover my number. You saved me from chaos. I appreciate your speed and efficiency. Thank you very much. We're glad Aaron was able to help you so quickly! Thank you for choosing the second series! I really like Second Line. I get calls and texts on the same phone I use for my main line and can tell the difference. You can set times for administration. So if you don't want someone to call you after a certain time, it will go straight to a professional voicemail, which you can set or turn on automatically. I would definitely recommend this app to anyone who needs a second line rather than another phone. So yesterday I downloaded it for our business. I even signed up for a month ... when I went to sign up it kept telling me there was an error, the account already exists and for over 20 minutes no matter what password I tried, kept I say, it already exists. Finally, after clicking I forgot my password (even though I just registered a new account), changed it and it refused to log me in. I always get told something went wrong, please try again. He keeps trying. my manlike I changed the password and it refuses to let us in. Needless to say, I canceled my subscription, so I'd rather not take anything! Don't waste your time trying, I think it's a waste of your money. Sorry, the app is not working properly! The account may exist, which is why you may see this error. Please contact our support team with the link to this review and we will look into it as soon as possible! Learn More App Support Privacy Policy Overview Softonic 2ndLine Second Phone Number is a free mobile application that allows you to create a second phone number for business purposes. This great phone app by TextNow, Inc. adds a second phone line to your mobile device so you can keep your work and personal life separate. All calls and texts within the US and Canada are free, and international calls are cheap. What is the second phone number app? The second phone number app is a dialer provider that provides a second line that works just like the first. It can make outgoing calls and receive incoming calls, so you can easily set it up for specific calls and messages if you want your work number to be different from your personal number. This type of app is also great if your device doesn't have a second SIM card slot. 2ndLine - Second Phone Number is one such app that provides many of the features you would expect from a phone app. First, you canEmoticons, stickers and GIFs in text messages. You can do the same with pictures. If you want to send a message to more than one person, you can easily do that with group messaging. You can even add subtitles to your texts.Is 2ndLine free? 2ndLine is a VoIP service that uses your mobile data or Wi-Fi connection to provide an extra line for your phone. So instead of being billed for your phone plan, all you have to do is pay for your internet connection - this app is almost free to call people in America and Canada. You don't even have to be a 2ndLine user to receive your messages and calls or to send you messages or calls. However, this app is only available in this region and can be used by anyone outside of the US or Canada. t subscribe to the 2ndLine number. However, the app is very handy because it allows you to make cheap international calls, receive voice messages and even their transcripts, and forward calls to others. You can also set up caller ID, passwords, and a Google SmartLock account. Ringtones and background graphics are also easily customizable. You can assign individual ringtones and backgrounds to individual contacts to personalize every interaction. If you use your phone and other apps a lot, there is a quick reply feature. This allows the toast notification to quickly send a reply to a message that uses it. The inboxes of your two phone numbers will be merged, so you don't have to manage two different places. Worth a try Overall, 2ndLine - Second Phone Number is a great alternative to buying another SIM card. an option for those whose devices do not support an additional slot for such devices. Although it's not available worldwide and you might encounter login errors frequently, the app offers enough cool features to justify its premium version. Execution.
