16. Right to a diverse environment and creativity

Children have the right to have many different things, people, and ideas in their environment.

Children have the right to listen to music of their choice.

Children have the right NOT to have their creativity stifled.

17. Right to education

Every child has the right to education, education that aims to develop his or her personality, talents, and mental and physical abilities to the fullest extent, no matter how wealthy the child's parents are.

Education should foster respect for a child's parents, for the child's own cultural identity, language and values, as well as for the cultural background and values of others.

Children have the right to an excellent education in any school. Schools will differ not in the quality of the education they offer, but only in their philosophies of teaching, and what professional specializations they stress.

18. Right to access appropriate information and to a balanced depiction Of reality

Adults have the obligation to provide children with information from several different sources.

Children should be protected from materials adults consider harmful.

Children have the right to have reality presented to them in a balanced and accurately representative fashion.

19. Right not to be exposed to prejudice

Children have the right NOT to be taught that one group (racial, national, religious, etc.) is superior to another.

Section II: Articles that require social or national policies

20. The right to a clean environment

Children have a right to a clean environment (water, air, ground, sea).

21 . Right to a small national debt

Governments and countries must decrease national debt which will have to be paid for by future generations.

22. Right to vote

Children over 14 have the right to vote on issues that directly affect children, in all local, regional, national and international elections.

23. Right to medical care

Children have the right to be kept alive and in the best health and medical care science can provide, no matter how wealthy their parents are.

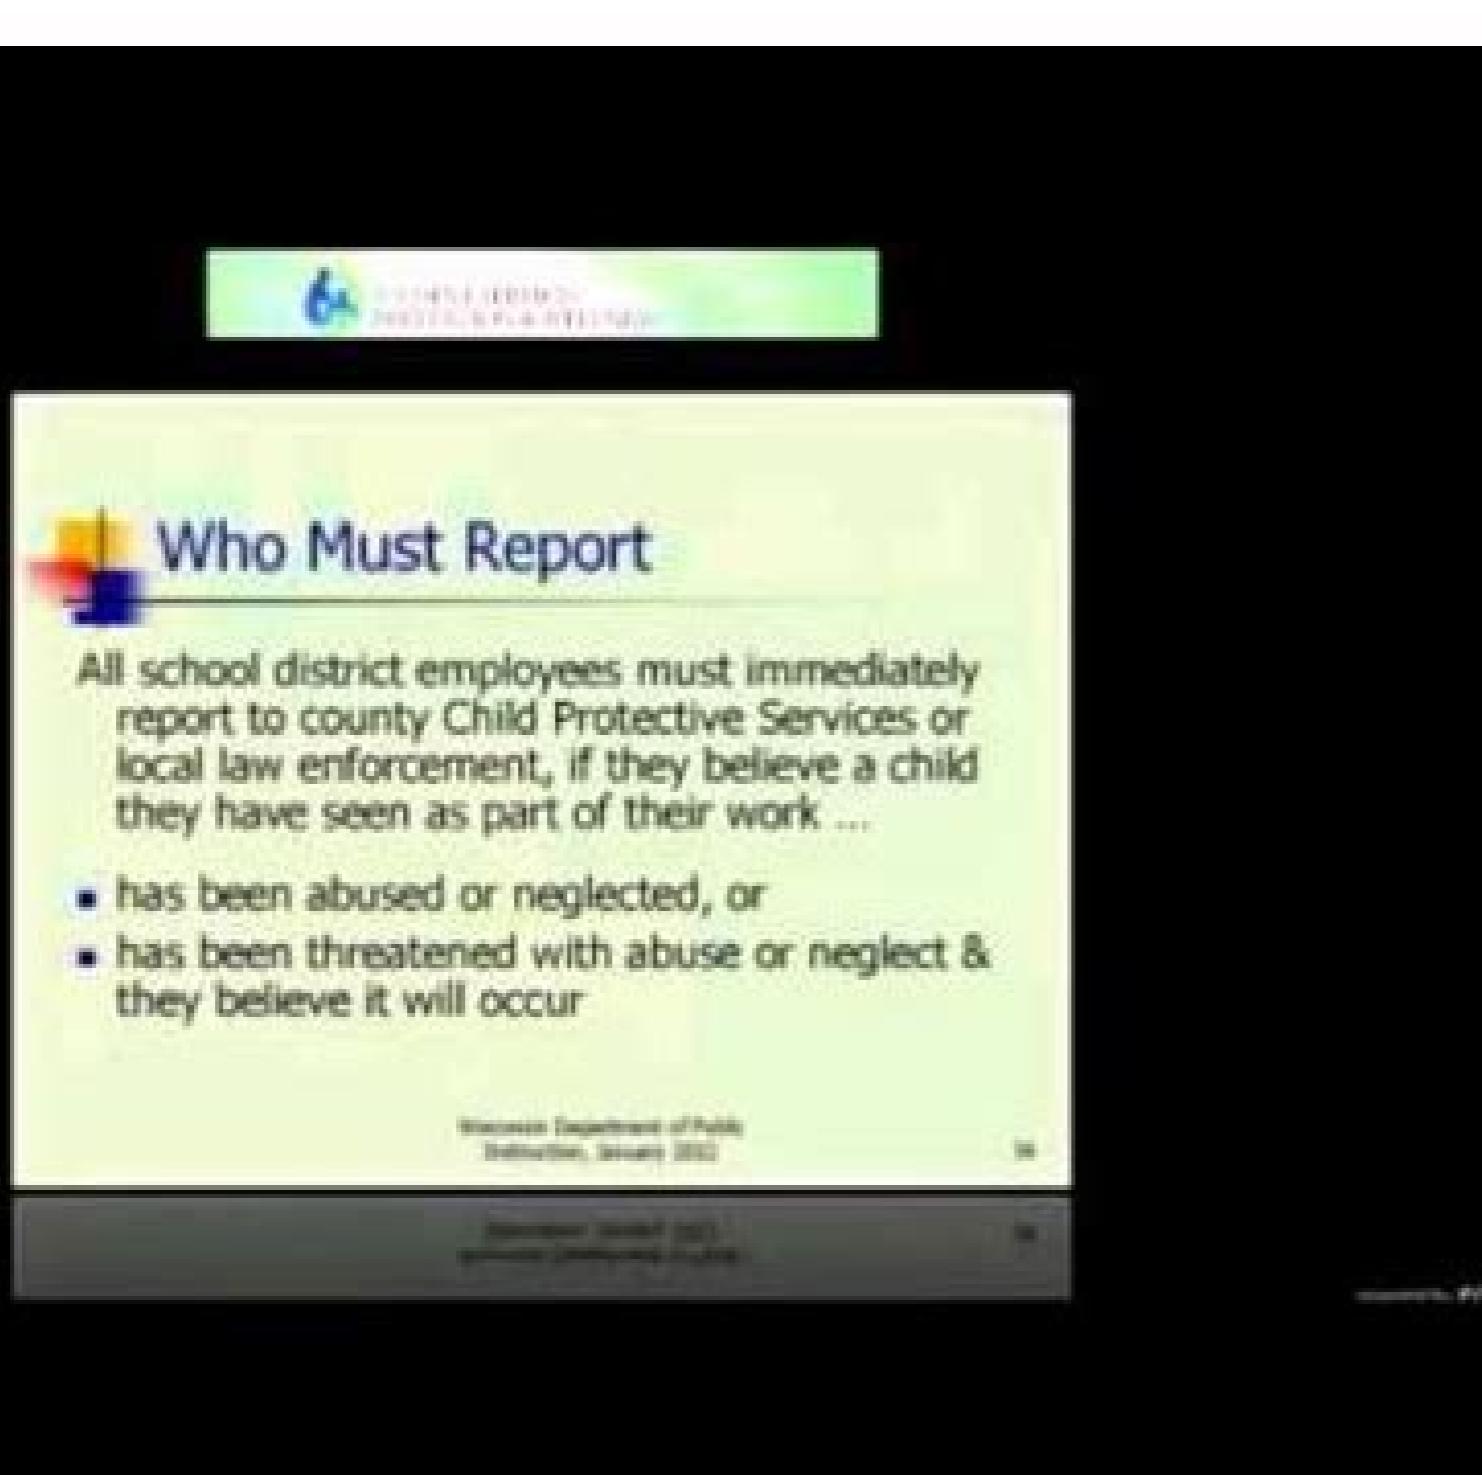

24. Legal rights

Children accused of crimes have at least the same legal rights as adults.

No child shall be institutionalized against her or his will without due process rights.

25. Right not to participate in war

Young people under 21 have the right NOT to go to war. [17]

CHAPTER 350 CHILD ABUSE

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION

FOR MANDATED REPORTING

FILM

Also the staff member will also ask for your name and job details and if you do not agree to be shared with the family. Introduce if you have already done some things to help the family and if the family knows you are interested. Risked the risk to the child based on what he said and other information available to them. Give a record of the conversation, including the information you gave and any agreements you made together. To such next steps to be mocked to be taken the confidentiality reserves calling the board and the reference line have a legal right to confidentiality. The staff member will record your details, but has won your identity without your consent unless you need to consult with another person acting in the course of official duties under the deed (such as another board and reference staff member or a child safety officer); Or if they were ordered by a court. Staff will do their best to keep your confidentiality if that's what you require. However, staff will need to talk to the family about what has been reported, and in most cases the family will guess where the information comes from. The staff member can talk to you about this scenario, how it might impact you and your child and how you plan to respond. Talking to the Family about it can call the advice and referral. The line without talking to the family first. You should always do this if you think that raising your concerns with the family might increase the risk to the child. Some people also prefer not to raise their concerns with the family directly because they do not directly give T has an existing or ongoing relationship with the family or because they care about their personal safety. To achieve change and build safety for children it helps staff from the Advice and Referral Line and the Child Safety Service to be able to talk openly with the family about who is worried and what they are noticing that makes them worried. This can help the family to acknowledge issues and accept support for themselves and their children. Online Contact Form We prefer all contacts to be made by phone so that we can make sure we have all the information we need to make an assessment. They include medical practitioners, nurses, dentists, police officers, psychologists, probation officers, child welfare officers, school principals, ministers of religion, teachers, kindergarten teachers, people who manage child care services and people employed by or volunteering in government agencies or organisations funded by the Crown that provide health, welfare, education or care for children. If you are a mandatory reporter and you believe, suspect or know that a child has been or is being abused or neglected you must contact the Advice and Referral Line as soon as possible. This will include what you are worried about anything that is going well for the child and their family and what you think might help. If you doneât do this you could face penalties. When to Make a Report As a mandatory reporter you need to contact the Advice and Referral Line as soon as possible if you know, believe or suspect that an unborn baby, child or young person is being abused or neglected or is an affected child within the meaning of the Family Violence Act 2004; or may be killed, abused or neglected by a person who they live with; or if the baby isn't born yet, that he or she may need medical treatment or other intervention as a result of behaviour by the pregnant woman or another person. You doneât need to wait until you have evidence.
